

A competition was organised by Bal Sahyog in February, 2016, in 6 contact centres conducting vocational trainings in cutting and tailoring and beauty culture trades in different slums of Delhi. All the trainees of cutting and tailoring prepared sample of dress materials and those doing training in beauculture performed Mehndi work. The final products were judged by a committee of Instructors and coordinators and prizes were distributed among the trainees securing 1st, 2nd and 3rd positions. The following photographs are self explaining:

Vocational trainees at Naharpur and Kotla with their mehndi art and sample of dress materials prepared by them during respectively.

Vocational trainees at Karolbagh with the dresses materials and trainees in action at Paharganj with their sewing machine during Tailoring Competition.

Vocational trainees at Rithala with their Dresses Materials and Mehndi art prepared by them during Mehndi Competition with Interns from Raj Giri College, Kerala.