From the Desk of CEO

Stepping into Bal Sahyog is both a privilege and a responsibility. For over seventy years, this institution has quietly transformed lives, standing beside children with care, dignity, and an unwavering belief in their potential. To be part of this journey is deeply meaningful.

I do so with great respect for the vision of our Chairperson and the steady, thoughtful leadership of our Executive Director. Together, they reflect an organisation that is anchored in strong values while remaining responsive to the evolving needs of the times. This balance is what gives Bal Sahyog its enduring strength.

At its heart, our work is about people-children with aspirations, challenges, and immense possibilities. It is this human dimension that must continue to guide us as we move forward. The task ahead is not only to carry forward a rich legacy but to strengthen it with greater reach, deeper impact, and meaningful partnerships.

In my own journey, I have learned that real change happens when intent is matched with integrity and sustained by consistent action. At Bal Sahyog, I see that the foundation is already in place. My commitment is to build on it, thoughtfully and purposefully, so that every child we reach is not only supported, but truly empowered.

I look forward to working together with our team, partners, and well-wishers to ensure that Bal Sahyog continues to be a space where children are given not just care, but opportunity; not just support, but the confidence to shape their own futures.
